We, the class of 1961, affectionately dedicate "The Tattler" to Mrs. Marjorie McKusick. She has taught us the importance of trust and responsibility and has set an example for us to follow in her ways of courtesy and thoughtfulness. We shall always be grateful for our time spent with this gracious and lovely woman, whose dignity and poise we admire.

Marjorie P. McKusick

Editorial

The class of 1961 has chosen "Time" as the dominant theme of the Tattler. We refer not only to hours of enjoyment, but also to the time students have spent in studying.

To each of us it is the time spent with classmates and in participating in activities that makes Williamsburg High School special. As we look through these pages memories will return. We remember our first weeks as freshmen. We remember the success of some achievement. We remember the fun and thrills of a basketball game.

What we cannot include on these pages is the time and effort that each of us has spent on his studies, nor can we show the time spent on our behalf by the faculty in assisting us in all our problems and in supporting us in our school activities. Whether each student has made the most of his time is an individual matter, but we of the graduating class will soon know if we have used ours wisely.

We urge you future seniors to take full advantage of your opportunities now, so that your years at Williamsburg High School will be of the greatest value to you.

History of the Class of 1961

Time moves on, and all too soon our last year in school has passed. This June the high school portals will close on us, and we must be ready for the responsibilities of the future. In our four years of high school we have developed and matured. We have learned co-operation and leadership through participation in school activities. Let us turn back the clock and recognize our achievements during these important four years.

Since our freshman year we have been interested in athletics. Our class contributed Dan Dunlevy, Joel Howes, Charles Kellogg, Nicholas Warren, and Gary Moore to the Cross Country Team. Dan Dunlevy, who is undefeated, showed outstanding ability. He is also co-captain of both the basketball and the baseball teams.

Linda Beals and Kathleen Mollison along with Cynthia Kellogg, Laura Barrus, and Susan Clark have supported the girls' basketball team since their sophomore year. All these girls have given their best for a successful team.

Most of our debators have been members of the team since their freshman year. Allen Moran, Peter Batura, Dan Dunlevy, Nicholas Warren, and Helen Symons have given unselfishly of their time and effort. Our debating team has ranked very high this year.

The boys' voices in the Glee Club came almost entirely from our class. Gary Moore, Joel Howes, Charles Kellogg, and John Curtis are this year's valuable and talented songsters. Nick Warren, who has been in Glee Club for four years, has developed his musical ability in a trio of boys' voices.

The editing of the TATTLER has been supervised by Helen Symons, editor, and Ronald Kievitt, assistant editor. They both have worked diligently, and they deserve the praise of everyone.

Our class is very proud of our students with high scholastic ability. Ten members of our class belong to the Pro Merito Society. Allen Moran, Kenneth Sherk, and Nicholas Warren received honorable mention as a result of their high ranking scores in the National Merit Scholarship Test. Last year Kenneth Sherk, Gary Moore, and Helen Symons placed first, second, and third, respectively, in our Science Fair.

During our high school years we have enjoyed sponsoring school dances, especially the Junior Prom last year and the Freshman Reception and the Christmas Dance this year. We have supported all school activities including our Student Council, which we hope will strengthen each year.

Now the time has come for us to leave our beloved school. We are filled with gratitude for the education and the cultural background that we have acquired, and we are looking forward to the learning and wisdom which the future will bring.

Tom Harter leaves his Bondo to Dickie Thomas.

Sue Clark leaves her homework for tomorrow.

Cindy Kellogg leaves her set shots to Betty Brooks.

John Curtis leaves Pete Batura mad.

Dave Braman leaves his study hall girlfriends to Buddy Haskell.

Linda Beals leaves the boys staring.

Mary Richardson leaves her ability to be quiet to Nancy Fox.

Fred Hayden leaves to move into the Snack Bar.

Steve Johnson leaves again for Salem.

Gary Moore leaves Mrs. Belck confused.

Pete Batura leaves Mrs. DeNood peace and quiet.

Ralph Healy leaves his Haydenville taxi service to Cecil Thomas.

Dan Dunlevy leaves applauding himself.

Tim Mosher leaves . . . what happened?

Ronnie Kievitt leaves his night life to Mike Dymerski.

Dave Webb leaves his slide-rule to Andy Burr.

Lucinda Lyman leaves her sports car to Mrs. Belck in hopes that it will be warmer than her jeep.

Donna Hurd leaves her honesty to Mazur.

George Wright leaves his hundred yard dash to lunch to Tom Kushka.

Chick Kellogg vaguely remembers leaving.

Doug Kellogg leaves Linda Taylor depressed.

Gert Heath leaves--yakity yak.

Laura Barrus leaves her trips into the shower to Linda Mason.

Dee Dee Smith leaves her ability to flirt to Ellen May Granger.

Nick Howes leaves his CANTERBURY TALES to Lee Diamond.

Dave Aloisi leaves his true blond, wavy hair to Wendy.

Bernie Beattie leaves basketball practice gladly behind.

Nick Warren leaves his book on how to talk effectively in English class to Roger Bisbee.

Mary Nietsche leaves, reading a book.

Helen Symons leaves the TATTLER to Barbara Hinton.

Joel Howes leaves to do his Modern History homework.

Kenneth Sherk leaves his pile of books to David Kenny.

The senior debators leave the UN significantly strengthened.

Class Prophecy

It was the summer of 1976. The fresh country air was streaming through my hair as I gave my new, streamlined engine full throttle and roared down the straightaway. Yes, Look Park certainly has one of the finest train runs this side of the Mississippi. Ever since I took my job here ten years ago as chief engineer, I have been waiting for the opportunity to give the streamliner a good workout. Suddenly, a deer bounded out of the woods right into my path. I tried to stop--what a mess! Then a figure leaped out of the bushes screaming and tearing his hair. I could tell by the green uniform and shiny badge that he was none other than the Look Park game keeper. After he had stopped his jumping up and down, I recognized my old buddy, Chick Kellogg, who, I assumed, had just been transferred by popular demand from a cage-cleaning job in New York. After we had loaded the venison steaks into the caboose, I invited him to take a spin with me in my new engine, and to talk over old times at W.H.S.

Naturally, we discussed our favorite reading material, and thus the subject turned to Allen Moran.

"Have you read Allen's latest stories in PLAYBOY?" asked Chick. "I guess the intellectual stimulation at old W.H.S. finally got him into the right field."

"Yes," I replied, "and have you seen the cartoons that Gary Moore does to illustrate them? I hear the censors are hot on his heels."

"Speaking of journalism," said Chick, "Gert Heath gets some good dirt in her column for the BOSTON RECORD. As a matter of fact she has written a few articles concerning some of our old classmates. It seems that Bernie Beattie, third baseman for the Boston Red Sox, has been having troubles with players stealing third. However, Fred 'Bloodhound' Hayden, the famed private detective has been put on the job, and a solution is expected soon. Not only that, but Gert put in a big plug for Helen Symons, who runs the only dancing school teaching cha-cha exclusively."

Then I interrupted, "did you read the article on Mary Richardson? It seems that she and Doug Kellogg, now an admiral after a long career in the Navy, have been happily married for three years, an all time record for Mary. True, Mary's sea-sickness did present a stumbling block for a while, but a consultation with the world-famous marriage counsellor, John Curtis, and a big bottle of dramamine, solved the problem quite nicely."

Chick, who was fairly bursting with information, told me about Tom Harter. "He has become a Bondo expert for General Motors. They say that he is the first person to complete a car of more than 50% Bondo, and it is rumored that in knowledgeable circles he is called 'Mr. Bondo'. By the way, his sidekick, Dave Aloisi, has become a successful Roto-Rooter Sewer Service man. Ralph Healy, who worked with Dave, and who made him the man he is today, has gone back to fiddling with engines, and is now chief golf-cart mechanic at the White House."

"That's funny," I said. "I always figured Dave for a farmer. Well, Joel Howes and his cousin Nick have made good in the dairy business and own a tremendous herd of aphids. They also run a small poultry farm which is supervised by Kathy Mollison, who, as you know, had a great deal of experience in this field. Not only that, but Bucky Sherk has astounded the world by inventing that great labor-saving device for dairy farmers, the reclining milking stool."

Just then, as we emerged from the dark recesses of the tunnel, the figure of a young boy dropped into the caboose. However, he hadn't reckoned with the superior powers of Chick Kellogg and a pile of venison steaks. Quickly, Chick extricated him and brought him up front. And lo and behold, it was no eight-year-old ride chiseler, but a thirty-three-year-old rid chiseler, the owner of a great worm ranch in South Dakota, Tim Mosher, the Worm King. Just as we were about to throw him off, he held up his hand and said, "Wait! You haven't used me as a prop for introducing more characters into your prophecy."

So naturally we hauled him back in and pumped him for more information.

"Well," said he, "Steve Johnson has made a fortune incorporating gas stations all over the country under one name--Bumble." Then he continued to tell us about a few of the girls from our class. "It seems that three girls have made a killing by starting a social etiquette class in New York. After much study, Dee Dee Smith, Cynthia Kellogg, and Candy Moore supplied the modern building with its most striking feature, a dining hall modeled after the Snack Bar, where young innocents are taugh the ways of the world. Bill Ames, an expert in the field, has become chief instructor of Coke drinking."

Now that Tim had served his purpose, we threw him off the train, stranding him a full one-eighth mile from the station.

"Speaking of Cynthia reminds me of Sue Clark," shouted Chick over Tim's epithets. "I think that she and Linda Beals have set up a beautv parlor in San Francisco, which is a front for a vicious gossip ring. And you remember Sue's friend, Laura Barrus. Well, she has started a professional basketball league for women."

Just then I remembered some information about some other classmates of our. "I heard that Ron Kievitt, aside from his regular job as clown for Ringling Bros., has been experimenting with rockets. As a matter of fact, his latest attempt, the Kievitt Klunker, missed the moon in grand style, and landed the astronaut, Dave Braman on an asteroid one mile in diameter, which he has claimed for the United States. When last heard from, he had sent out the inspiring words, 'What am I doing here?"

"That reminds me of Dave Webb," reminisced Chick. "He became an electronics expert and is now working on an electronic marvel to replace transistors--the vacuum tube. By the way, what do you think of Dan Dunlevy's expanding Corner's Grocery in Worthington to a nationwide chain store?"

"Oh, it's pretty good for an amateur," I yawned, "but that does remind me of Pete Batura, who was also on the debating team. He came back to good old W.H.S., where I hear he is doing a tremendous job as debating coach. Furthermore, Cindy Lyman is now the music teacher, since Miss Healy had a nervous breakdown while pounding out Stodola Pumpa for the(CENSORED) straight year."

Then Chick came forth with a sterling piece of information. "The last I heard," he said, "Donna Hurd has gone to Greenwich Village as a missionary with Mary Nietsche as her medical assistant."

Finally, we came to a screeching halt before the Look Park station, and I let Chick out before I parked the train.

"Oh yes," he shouted, hitting the side of his head. "I knew there was someone we forgot--George Wright!"

"Have you heard anything about him?" I queried.

"Why, of course," yelled Chick over the roar of the engine. "He became a hermit in the Everglades where he has written two books--HOW TO DEVELOP AN OUTGOING PERSONALITY and OVERCOMING YOUR FEAR OF CROWDS."

Following the example set by other schools, Williamsburg High School organized a Student Council three years ago. Our constitution states that the Student Council is organized to "promote better understanding between the faculty and the students, to develop interest in all school activities, and to encourage the students to abide by the rules of the school." At the beginning of this school year the representation in the Student Council was established as five representatives from the senior class, four juniors, three sophomores, two freshmen, and one each from the seventh and eighth grades. The Student Council meets every other Friday to discuss problems and activities, and under its new president, Allen Moran, is attempting to take action on problems concerning the welfare of the entire student body.

This year the Williamsburg debating team entered the Connecticut Valley League with an experienced team. They were successful in winning 17 out of 20 decisions to finish in second place in the league of eleven teams. Last year the team finished in fourth place with an 11 and 19 record.

The topic debated was "Resolved that the United Nations should be significantly strengthened." The affirmative debating was done by Dan Dunlevy, Nick Warren, and Cecil Thomas. After losing their first two debates at the Hopkins Academy tournament, they were to lose only one other decision, thus finishing the season with 7 wins and 3 losses. The negative debating was done by Allen Moran, Peter Batura and Garry Moore. They won ten decisions while losing none.

The highlight of the year occurred at the final tournament for the season. Here the Williamsburg teams defeated all three contenders. Of particular note was the defeat of the previously undefeated South Hadley affirmative team by our negative. South Hadley won the league for the third straight year with this year's record being 19 wins and 1 loss.

The only member of this year's varsity team who will not be lost because of graduation is Cecil Thomas; however, among the novice debaters are Robin Frost, Katherine Moran, Roberta Tilley and Nick Dostie. All these are enthusiastic freshmen anxious for varsity participation next fall.

Library Aides

The newly organized group of library aides has been assisting in the library during the past year. Meeting regularly once a week and helping the librarian during study halls, the girls have learned the mechanics of library work and have assumed responsibility for much of the daily routine. Working quietly behind the scenes, the aides have contributed many hours of service to keep the library functioning smoothly.

Dramatics Club

As shown below our girls' basketball team has had an outstanding season, with 15 wins 1 loss. This year was the first time that the girls were asked to play in the Central Massachusetts Tournament. We were very proud to bring home the second place trophy for Williamsburg High School.

We will lose, through graduation, five of our first team: Susan Clark, Laura Barrus, Cynthia Kellogg, and co-captains Kathleen Mollison and Linda Beals.

We of the graduating team wish to thank Mrs. Kmit for her outstanding work, and also wish next year's team a good season.

Cross country has been firmly established at Williamsburg High as a result of the third consecutive undefeated year. The 4-0 record put forth by Coach Trzcienski's team this year was built up by successful competition against Minnechaug Regional of Wilbraham and against Amherst Regional High School.

The team was led to the successful finish by Dan Dunlevy, who set six course records in three years of undefeated running. Joel Howes and Nick Warren provided important depth by holding the third and fourth spots respectively on the 'Burgy squad. Two other senior runners, Charles Kellogg and Gary Moore, were on the "injured" list and were unable to compete at capacity capabilities.

The future team will have Mick Donovan, who held the number two spot, and other veterans such as Mike Dymerski, who occupied the number five position, Herbert Haskell, Alex Masloske, Andy Burr, Carl Eldred, Damon Cheverette, Buddy Schoonover, and Dale Hitchcock.

On the record:

The present course record for the 2.4 mile track is 12'15" set by Dan Dunlevy on 23 October, 1959.

Boys' Basketball

The Williamsburg High School basketball team completed one of its most successful seasons this year with a 16-5 record. The team worked hard under the watchful eye and corrective instructions of Coach Earl Tonet, and was repaid by securing third place in the Tri-State Tournament.

Co-captains Rick Graves and Dan Dunlevy led their team through the successful season with the help of Neal Menard on the backboard and Roy Foster's points. Mike Dymerski and Bob Hutchins, the other two starters, also contributed substantially to the season's record, along with Dick Thomas who replaced Dan Dunlevy as a starting player when the latter suffered a knee injury which caused him to miss the last third of the season.

Rick Graves was selected for the Franklin League All-star basketball team.

Bernard Beattie and Dan Dunlevy are the only graduating players, so next year's team should have another fine season. And with Mr. Trizcienski coaching the ever improving J.V.'s, Mr. Tonet should have a strong bench.

Basketball Banquet

The Basketball Banquet of 1961 continued in its tradition as a gala affair, Saturday, March 18, 1961, in the Anne T. Dunphy cafeteria.

Mr. George Childs, who carried out the job of toastmaster, gave thanks to the Citizen's Committee and introduced Mr. Reddington. Mr. Reddington praised both teams as being both "good players and the school's ambassadors of good will." Mr. Childs then proceeded to mention a few of the sights that he had seen on a recent visit to the high school and conveyed several "special" awards to various team members. It was apparent that the spies have been out for months as many embarrassing incidents were retold.

Mrs. Kmit thanked the cheerleaders for their fine work this season and commented on the excellent record of the girls' basketball team. She awarded each player a white sweatshirt with a green school emblem. The five departing seniors, Laura Barrus, Linda Beals, Kathy Mollison, Sue Clark, and Cynthia Kellogg, received individual trophies. Kathy Mollison and Linda Beals, co-captains, presented Mrs. Kmit with a clock radio from the team and cheerleaders. Ricky Graves gave each girl a small Bull-throwing Award from the boys' team.

Mr. Tonet gave a brief summary of the past season and of each player. He presented Dan Dunlevy and Bernard Beatie with individual trophies and plaques to each member of the squad. Mike Dymerski and Ricky Graves received the Malcolm Heath Award.

Dan Dunlevy, co-captain, presented Mr. Tonet with a plaque from the boys with each member's name engraved on it as an expression of their appreciation for his time and effort.

The evening suitably climaxed the successful season and will bring pleasant memories.
